DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 15-17, 19, 20, and 34-37 are pending. Claims 15-17, 19, 20, and 34-37 have been amended in this communication filed 6/28/07 entered as Response After Non-Final Action.
2. The Non-Final rejections of 8/21/06 and 4/16/07 are hereby withdrawn in view of the rejection here below. After a careful review of the claims remaining in the application a restriction has been found.

Election/Restrictions

3. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claim 15, drawn to System for trading forwards between parties and executing trades of matched forwards trading orders, classified in class 705, subclass 37.
 - II. Claims 16, 17, and 36, drawn to a system and method for program instructions enable after execution of the trade a notification to the parties of the counterparty pair and the new trade between both the parties of the counterparty pair, classified in class 705, subclass 35.
 - III. Claims 19 and 35, drawn to a system and method for enabling the trading system to receive, process and store forwards orders and execute forwards trades including a forwards spread trade comprising a first leg forwards trade and a second leg forwards trade with a price spread of the spread trade, classified in class 705, subclass 36r.

- IV. Claims 20 and 37, drawn to a system and method for displaying selectable forwards trading orders of the plurality of parties, providing a function, selectable at user stations for a party to add a new forwards trading order having pricing and size terms, and in response to selection of the function at a user station of one party and selection of an existing forwards trading order of another party displayed, classified in class 705, subclass 35.
- V. Claim 34, drawn to a method for a first counterparty of at least one counterparty pair to sequentially select for execution by the trading system a series of forwards trading orders of at least one second counterparty of the counterparty pair, not executing a trade of any matched forwards trading orders of the series until after all of the orders have been selected, and after all of the series have been selected executing all trades of all executable orders of the series, classified in class 705, subclass 39.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species I, II, III, IV, and V. The Species are independent or distinct because Species I, claim 15 has program instructions for enabling a first counterparty of at least one counterparty pair to sequentially select for execution by the trading system, a series of forwards trading orders of a second counterparty of the one counterparty pair, and program instructions further enabling the trading system to execute any trade of forwards trading orders of the series until all orders in the series have been selected. Species II, claims 16, 17, and 36 have executing a trade of matched forwards trading orders of parties of a counterparty pair comprising a buying party and a selling party, program instructions to enable after execution of the trade notification to the parties of the counterparty pair and the availability of a new forwards trade, and within a predetermined time after the parties of the counterpart pair are provided with notification of the availability of the new trade. Species III, claims 19 and 35 have the system automatically generating from the stored forwards orders one of a forwards spread order including a spread price representing a difference between prices of potential first and second leg forwards trades and an order relating to one of the first and second leg forwards trades and a forwards spread order and automatically generating the order not being initiated by a party, displaying the automatically-generated order, and in response to request entered by a party at a user station to execute the automatically generated order and to execute the forwards spread trade including executing among the party and two other parties the first leg forwards trade at the first price and the second leg forwards trade at the second price. Species IV, claims 20 and 37 has a system and method for displaying selectable forwards trading orders of the plurality of parties, providing a function, selectable at user stations for a party to add a new forwards trading order having pricing and size terms, and in response to selection of the function at a user station of one party and selection of an existing forwards trading order of another party displayed. Species V, claim 34 has a method for a first counterparty of at least one counterparty pair to sequentially select for execution by the trading system a series of forwards trading orders of at least one second counterparty of the counterparty pair, not executing a trade of any matched forwards trading orders of the series until after all of the orders have been selected, and after all of the series have been selected executing all trades of all executable orders of the series.

Applicant is required under 35 USC 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently there are no claims that are generic or allowable.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP 809.02 (a).

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the species to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
